

CAPITOL STAYS IN PIERRE

South Dakota Legislature Indefinitely Postpones Removal Proposition. MITCHELL'S HOPES PROVE ALL IN VAIN

Sharp Debate Only Serves to Vent the Jealousy of Rural Towns—Appropriations Get Through at Last.

PIERRE, S. D., March 5.—(Special Telegram.)—After an acrimonious debate in the senate this afternoon the resolution to remove the state capital from Pierre to Mitchell was indefinitely postponed by a vote of 21 to 14.

The senate held its first morning session and started on the house special appropriation bills with the knowledge that it had a majority, but a doubt of the necessary two-thirds to pass. A test was made with the assurance of a majority to reconsider. If lost, the Pierre forces supporting the bills and the Mitchell opposites. The fight was on all the forenoon and three of the bills were passed, those for Vermillion, Brookings and Aberdeen, all these to receive thirty or thirty-one votes. Redfield failed by two votes, but was reconsidered. Springfield lost, but will be reconsidered. A recess was taken to 2:30.

The house passed minor bills and resolutions, with a fight on the resolution asking that Mayor Felt be restored as brigadier general, in which charges were handed about.

The senate at its afternoon session took up further consideration of the special appropriation bills. The combination which had been fighting the bills had gone to pieces after the few breaks in its line before noon and the first bill taken up, that for the school of mines, went through with nine votes to spare.

Yankton Gets Its Money. Yankton then got $50,000, with but two dissenting votes. Sioux Falls secured its appropriation for the first state school and Gary got its appropriation for the Blind Asylum. The senate bill appropriating $11,000 for a dormitory at Madison, which failed yesterday, was reconsidered and passed, with eight votes to spare. The Redfield bill was reconsidered for the second time and passed, with only three dissenting votes. Adjutant General Humphrey's salary bill passed.

After the break, Watervorn flew the track on the capital removal proposition and announced his intention to support Pierre from that time on. The capital removal resolution was then called up by Stewart to indefinitely postpone further action on the resolution. This called out oratory on the part of Loomis and Johnston against the postponement. Loomis became very bitter in his remarks to Pierre and the surrounding country, while Johnston asked that the vote on the measure be delayed. Stewart took up the cue for Pierre and declared that the present move was not a move which would give to one which was wholly selfish and inspired by a desire for revenge alone, and to use it as a club, that friendship for Mitchell had no part in the play; that the vote of the house was not a fair expression of opinion, and that twenty-five members of the house had voted for the measure had expressed a hope to him that the bill would be killed in the senate.

Indefinite Postponement. Eagerly of Watervorn spoke against the resolution and stated that the bill had only been sprung with a hope of killing the special appropriations and that he was absolutely opposed to the measure. The indefinite postponement carried by 31 to 14 and that vote was clinched.

The senate went into executive session and confirmed new appointments on the Board of Charities. The house in the afternoon passed bills for the revision and codification of laws and attached Beadle county to the Sixth judicial circuit.

The house passed senate bills to provide qualification for admission to the bar, attaching certain islands to the Missouri river to Clay county for school purposes, providing for an election for attaching certain lands to Clay county, allowing towns of 250 population to construct municipal waterworks, senate joint resolution memorializing congress for drainage of the Red river valley, and for a constitutional amendment allowing county seats to be moved from country towns to a railroad by a vote of 60 per cent.

Unite Judicial Circuit. Wilmarth called up his Ninth judicial circuit bill and secured indefinite postponement, as there was no probability of passage. Under suspension resolutions were allowed to be introduced for constitutional amendment to except superintendents of schools from the tenure of office provision, and a resolution memorializing congress to commission Major Harden of the volunteers to the regular army.

Governor Herrell returned a veto on the ballot reform bill, pointing out his objections, and the elections committee was allowed to introduce a bill to cover the objections raised by the veto. The bill appropriating money to reimburse the members of the first World's Fair commission was killed.

SUES ON GLOBE BANK BOND

Action of Depositor of Defunct Savings Bank Against Bondsmen Comes to Trial. In Judge Keyser's court the case of James W. Wickerly against Cadet Taylor, H. O. Devries, L. T. Noyes, the Globe Loan and Trust company and the Globe Savings bank is on trial. Wickerly had about $1,200 on deposit in the Globe Savings bank at the time it failed in 1896 and he is suing to recover the amount with interest. Taylor, Devries and Noyes appear as defendants because they assumed the assets of the defunct bank and executed a bond to the State Banking board to guarantee the payment of the depositors within three years. The case is of considerable interest, as upon its determination depends the status of a large number of other depositors.

RACING MEN TO WAGE WAR

Stewards of Western Jockey Club Challenge Turf Congress. CHICAGO, March 5.—The stewards of the Western Jockey club at a meeting today, adopted the rules which will govern the new turf body. The most important point in a declaration of policy toward track owners who refuse to recognize the authority of the Western Jockey club, is that no track owner, by participating in any Western Jockey club track, shall be deemed to have recognized the authority of the stewards. The license fee for jockeys and trainers was reduced from $25 to $10 per annum, and it was provided that any jockey or trainer having already paid that fee to the American Turf club, should not be required to pay the fee to the stewards. The license fee will go into effect on the 1st of April.

The stewards took care to insert in the rules that the Western Jockey club would not be held responsible for any racing, probably done at the suggestion of the Chicago track owners, who are confronted with the prospect of losing their turf time "a reformer gets busy," as one of the officials explains the situation. It was decided that no jockey shall bet on a race except through the owner of and on the horse.

Racing colors "bearing letters or symbols of an advertising nature shall not be registered." The stewards also decided that the stewards failed to prohibit the naming of stakes events and horses for advertising purposes.

JOSEPH, Mo., March 5.—(Special Telegram.)—The Western League session here today called a meeting of the managers for Tuesday, March 12, instead of the proposed meeting at Pueblo, Colo. The present contention for the Pueblo manager will then be definitely settled. Sioux City, Pueblo and Colorado Springs have all been invited to present their propositions for the support of a club to the managers at this meeting, and the fans in all three cities are working hard to secure the support of their clubs. A. B. Beall, owner of the Minneapolis club, and George H. Beall, owner of the Kansas City club, spent last night in St. Joseph, and left today for their homes. Each had a short conference with President Hickey.

ASKS NO MORE EXPEDITIONS

Li Hung Chang Requests of Walderece Their Cessation. THREE OTHER SUGGESTIONS URGED

Chinese Diplomat Advises Means of Promoting Harmony Between German General Declines to Commit Himself. PEKIN, March 5.—General Yin Shang, by order of Li Hung Chang, wrote to Count von Walderece, making the following requests: "If it is possible, let there be no more expeditions. Give permission to the Chinese troops to remain in the territory of the allies for the purpose of preventing Boxers and robbers' attacks. Direct the allied troops, while searching for and punishing robbers and Boxers, to ask assistance of the Chinese officials. Prevent native Christians from making extortionate claims, which the missionaries often help to enforce."

To this Count Walderece sent the following reply: "The headquarters staff of the allied army cannot enter into an agreement to undertake anything which would reserve the right to act according to circumstances. If no general conditions, political or otherwise, arise like the appearance of hands of robbers or the behavior of Chinese regular troops that would necessitate expedition, Count von Walderece is inclined to agree to the request of Li Hung Chang to have no more expeditions. The local authorities will be asked ascertaining the guilty so far as possible. Indemnities for Christians or missionaries will be secured by the mutual agreement of the diplomat."

The daily meeting of the ministers of the powers dealt with the legation quarters, the forms of assessing indemnities and questions of ceremony in connection with the arrival of the emperor. An improved railway service is promised within the next ten days.

HAVE MONEY OF THEIR OWN

Nebraska Farmers Give Evidence of Unparalleled Prosperity This Year. The condition of farm loans in the state of Nebraska is deplorable from a lender's standpoint, for the reason that it is in many counties practically impossible to place money on security which can in any way be accounted adequate.

RIOT IN COMMONS

Scene of Brutal Violence.

But the crowding incident of this scene of brutal violence was the removal of the respectable Michael Flavin of North Kerry. Flavin is a self-wart man of 35 and very formidable looking. Reinforcements of police were sent for when his turn came. Twenty big constables surrounded him, some scrambling over his benches in front and others executing a flank movement, while six or eight advanced along the beach and a tug of war ensued, amid cheers and derisive remarks of other Irishmen.

House is Demoralized.

It is impossible to convey any idea of the state of demoralization to which the house was reduced by these unprecedented scenes. On former occasions when the Irish members had been ordered to leave the house, they were usually ordered to leave with their arms and baggage, never had a member been dragged out by main force.

The speaker was terribly overworked at the undignified and scandalous spectacle. Englishmen regard the floor of the house of commons as a sanctum sanctorum. Its invasion by a gang of policemen seemed to them like a sacrilege. It was for that reason the Irishmen provoked that extremity. They were refused the right of discussion of the voting of money for Irish supplies, and they suddenly resolved to show once for all that they would not be deprived of their constitutional right. They know, too, that Balfour's sharp practice in moving a closure of this was an unwelcome attempt to get even with them for their triumphantly successful criticism and opposition to the government's business since Parliament met.

Other Irishmen Belligerent.

Ten members only had been originally invited for disobeying the mandate of the chair, but all other Irishmen present, thirty in number, determined to follow the example of the first. They moved an adjournment of the house, the usual formal motion.

COLD WAVE SWEEPS DOWN

Omaha Awakes in the Midst of Some Real Winter Weather. The cold wave predicted by the weather bureau arrived yesterday morning when at 5 o'clock the mercury dropped to 6 above zero, making a fall of twenty-four degrees in twenty-four hours. The wave is quite general throughout the middle west, and is felt as far east as the lake region and as far south as northern Texas and Louisiana.

Chief Secretary Horrified.

George Wyndham, chief secretary for Ireland, looked grieved and spoke sadly: "I cannot say how horrified I was. The memory of that scene in our Parliament can never be effaced from my memory but it was unavoidable. The Irishmen meant to have a row." Prof. James Bryce said: "There is no record of policemen being seen on the floor of the House of Commons during its proceedings. It was the most disgraceful spectacle I ever witnessed. It shocked me beyond words to see police aid invoked against members of the House of Commons." The ten members fired out are excluded from the house and prisoners for one week. The World correspondents say them all bearing traces of very rough handling. Their clothes were torn, their faces scratched and two had their legs badly wronged.

THALBERG HAS HIS TROUBLES

Wind Blows His Hat Away and Then Building Jumps on Him.

Gus Thalberg played the part of an tramp in a little one-act farce comedy that was presented Monday night in A. Harvey's back yard at Tenth street and Capitol avenue. He and his new-found friend, Archie Costello, were taking a short cut through the alley when a sudden gust of wind blew Thalberg's hat off his head and over the fence upon the Harvey premises. What followed he told an hour later to an admiring crowd at the city jail, where he had been taken on a charge of trying to steal chickens.

"I started to climb over the fence to get my hat," he began, "when Archie said, 'Say, pal, you'd better let me hold your overcoat,' says he, 'you like as not 'll have to let it go a swift getaway, and the coat 'd better you.' " "So I takes off my top coat and gives it to Archie to hold.

"Well, I'd no more than got over the pickets when a lot of chickens begins to rattle and here comes a building like a shot out of a gun and grabs me by the leg." Thalberg drew aside a long rent in his trousers leg to show the marks of the brute's teeth.

HAVE MONEY OF THEIR OWN

Nebraska Farmers Give Evidence of Unparalleled Prosperity This Year. The condition of farm loans in the state of Nebraska is deplorable from a lender's standpoint, for the reason that it is in many counties practically impossible to place money on security which can in any way be accounted adequate.

As illustrating the general condition a representative of an Omaha trust company relates the following: "Some time ago I received a letter from an interior town saying that a solid farmer of that community desired to borrow $500 to make improvements on his place. The farmer stated that he had written to our correspondent to place the money at 5 per cent. It was several days before I heard from him, and then he wrote saying that the farmer had borrowed the money from a neighboring farmer at 6 per cent, with the offer of a mortgage on the place. He stated and in such sums as he felt able. The letter stated that the correspondent learned of about $10,000 in the pockets of farmers of that immediate vicinity which would be placed in like loans if they can be secured."

Kill Three Americans, Two Macabebe Scouts and Escape Before Manila's Infantry Can Cut Them Off.

MANILA, March 5.—It is rumored that Colonel Wilder, chief of the Manila police, Captain Gilder, in charge of the Manila police service, and Lieutenant Gillespie, will be ordered to resign their resignments. No orders to this effect have been issued. General Davis, provost marshal of Manila, denies having recommended these changes. The officers themselves assert that the stories are circulated by persons interested in trading with the insurgents. It is charged in certain quarters that the police are over-zealous in making arrests of alleged insurgents under General MacArthur's proclamation.

No notification has been given concerning the trial of Carman, Carranza, and others who were arrested by the police on charges of dealing with the insurgents and the police have been ordered to refer all cases in which they shall subsequently obtain evidence to the provost marshal general for report to the military governor for investigation before making arrests.
